In many metropolitan areas Queenax was designed just in otherwise not usable space. Everyone appreciated it and it became a source of pride to offer to clients: Queenax makes activities easier, more eclectic and more captivating. In the facility where the structure is installed, whatever its core business, both trainers and clients who like using Queenax for training appreciate it. The undisputed prestige of clubs choosing Queenax confirms the power of the Queenax Training Concept and makes it an essential instrument for every Top Club in the world.

People want to be fit and to live better, that’s why facilities dedicated to well-being have got an endless potential for big investors who have been interested in this business in the last few years. Villages, academies, big facilities and chains focusing on the fitness/wellness concept have developed throughout the world. Big fitness brands have grown up becoming multinational companies, thanks to forward-looking strategies and constant innovation. In this regard, Queenax immediately won over Virgin’s managers: an instrument to increase the turnover like this has never been seen before. The possibility to save space by taking advantage of another dimension, to suggest new training solutions, to offer the ultimate fitness structure to clients couldn’t leave the managers of one of the world’s most important chains unimpressed. From now on there is a “must-have” instrument in these big centres and it’s Queenax.
Virgin Active is a chain of health clubs belonging to the Virgin group founded by Richard Branson. With over 1,2 million members in 266 clubs all over the world, Virgin Active is a globally recognised brand.

Trainers working in the Virgin network use their creativity and their undisputed expertise to make the workouts creative and flexible, from Personal Training to Mini Groups and also to Circuit Training.

RICHARD BRANSON IS ENTHUSIASTIC ABOUT THE QUEENAX PROJECT
The Queenax phenomenon has conquered Italy, Europe, South Africa and it has also landed in the States, the birthplace of fitness. Queenax structures are successful and constantly growing and, considering the demand, they will be spread widely in most of the federal states. Everything started with the first installations in Baltimore, Maryland, where its success began. The fact that Queenax has achieved these results is very important because doubtless the United States is the birthplace of fitness. The wellness culture has always been an anchorage: new trends and new fitness programmes normally originate right here.

All the rest has spread through word of mouth. Flexibility in use (Functional, Suspension, 4D Training), versatility of exercises (Group Activity, Mini Group, Personal Training), and compatibility with all the Training Apps in the world has pushed Equinox, the most prestigious American chain, to install Queenax in its centres, and this is just the beginning...

Jorge Lorenzo trains with Queenax

LORENZO CHOOSES QUEENAX FOR HIS SUCCESSFUL TRAINING

Jorge rides his Yamaha YZR-M1 at lightning speed, he issues several statements about his performance. But what about his private life? He has been riding since the age of three and when talking about himself, he says: “what was formerly a game turned into a passion and led me to become a world champion. I’m non-conformist by nature, so that every day I do my best, on track and off track. I think you shouldn’t content to be simply yourself, but you should try to be the best version of yourself”. Perfectionist and exacting, Jorge Lorenzo has found a unique and indispensable partner for training: Queenax, which he has even installed in his house in Barcelona.
From BMX to BMW, Melandri is a great champion on any tracks and he has always got good results, like when in 1998 in Asses he was the youngest ever motorcyclist to win a Grand Prix and when in 2002 he became the youngest 250cc world champion. His trainer is Riccardo Mazzoni, who has chosen Queenax. "Functional training is able to enhance strength and agility. When I train Marco, our objective is to simulate what he may find on track in the best way. Only a functional „hybrid” training can approach this discipline. I have been training Marco since 2006 and since then we have tried a lot of training methods, but only in the last few years we have been achieving important results with functional training, to prevent muscle and joint pain and to keep constantly fit all year round, also when the motorcycle racing season is over".
